SATURDAY MORNING, DEC 19, 1863

The Message.

The late hour at which we received this important document allows no time for comment. Our readers will of course be anxious to read it and are capable of forming their own opinions. It makes very clear and gratifying statements in regard to our foreign relations, our financial strength, and the progress made in the great conflict with treason. The plan of restoration of the insurgent States, or re construction, suggested near its close, will attract universal attention, and though we have no copy of the proclamation alluded to, we think the leading features of the system, so far as they appear, will meet with general approbation. It will be observed that the project of raising a revenue from the mines is to be brought to the attention of Congress in the report of the Secretary of War. The Message was telegraphed to the Union, and occupied seven hours and a half in its transmission—a most wonderful exploit, considering the distance and the great length of the document.

The other dispatch is brief and unimportant, except in regard to the rumored change of commander of the Army of the Potomac. It is stated that Gen. Pleasanton,—for many years on Gen Harney's staff, at Vancouver, is to be the next victim of military promotion. We hope he will achieve great success, but we hardly understand how any man can be bold enough to assume such a perilous and unlucky responsibility.

Eastern News.

NEW YORK, Dec 9.—The Times special dispatch says the estimates of the Secretary of War sums up less than those of last year. His report will show on what view of the war this diminution is based.

NEW YORK, Dec 9.—A special dispatch to the Times, dated Washington, December 8th, says Provost Marshal General Fry in his report will recommend to Congress the repeal of the $300 commutation clause in the Enrollment Act. This will compel drafted men to furnish substitutes or take their places in the ranks. The reduction of the disabilities which now exempt persons from military service will also be urged in Congress. There seems to be a determination among the members of both Houses to abolish the commutation clause. Bills thus far given notice of look to this result.

WASHINGTON, Dec 8th.—The rebels have taken possession of three prominent hills south of the Rapidan, from which they can observe all the movements of our army. Two rebel regiments occupy Fredericksburg.

Rumors, generally credited, but not confirmed, are in circulation that General Pleasanton has been appointed to command the Army of the Potomac. It is reported the command was offered to Warren and Sedgwick, but declined by them.

NEW YORK Dec. 9.—General Butler has issued a lengthy order in regard to colored troops, the effect of which is to call upon the male negroes to volunteer to fight for the freedom of their race, and to instruct every officer and soldier in his command to aid the coming of colored persons into our lines. Negro soldiers are to be paid a bounty of ten dollars and paid ten dollars month ly, while their families are to be furnished with subsistence. General Butler, in his order, calls on Congress to place negroes on the same footing with other soldiers.

JOHN M BOTTS.—A Washington correspondent of a New York paper, writing September 24th, says:

This gentleman's residence is near Brandy Station. At one place where he was yesterday in pursuit of postage stamps (the regular three cent U S head of Washington kind) he was not recognized by the person to whom he applied. Some one, however, who knew Botts, said "That's John M Botts, if you have any stamps, pray let him have some." Hereupon a Sergeant of artillery spoke up and said, "Here, Mr. Botts, please take half of mine. I understand that you are a Union man. You are the only one I have seen in Virginia, take the stamps." Botts received the article, thanked the soldier for the courtesy, but insisted on paying the proper price for them, which the Sergeant was very reluctant to receive. It will be remembered that Botts has been long confined in prison at Richmond for his devotion to the Union. He is now under parole to the rebel Government not to communicate information to our commanders. He looks careworn, and probably his long confinement and the troublous times which are upon his State have impaired his fortune and means of life. His household, as is the case with all in the neighborhood where he lives, have doubtless found difficulty in procuring food, in the constant presence, now for two years, of large armies. It was a graceful and thoughtful act, therefore that the Commissary of our forces sent to Bott's house, some days since, a goodly supply from the abundant stores of the Union army now encamped on the Rapidan. A Union loving people will commend this attention to one gallantly and to the death in favor of the "old flag."

REBEL TESTIMONY TO THE EFFECT OF THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION.—In a plain letter to Governor Seymour, Peter Cooper of New York, relates the following, as having been told him by Provost Marshal Dean, of St Louis, in support of an assertion that the proclamation of freedom has done more to weaken the rebellion and prevent foreign recognition that any other measure that could have been adopted.

"On his late visit to my house he informed me that he had brought on a large number of Rebel officers and men to be exchanged at Fortress Monroe. During their passage he took the opportunity to ask the officers in a body what effect the President's proclamation of freedom had produced in the South. Their reply was (to use their own vulgar expression), that it had played hell with them. Mr Dean then asked them how that could be possible since the negroes cannot read. To which one of them replied that one of his negroes had told him of the proclamation five days before he heard it any other way. Others said their negroes gave them their first information of the proclamation. One of these officers then said with a defiant air that if we would only leave them their corn their bacon and their homespun, which their negroes produced, they would fight us twenty years."

CASUALTY.—We learn that Dr Nathaniel Robbins, of Clackamas county, was drowned on Thursday, while attempting to cross the Tualatin river, near Moore's mill. He was on a flat boat, which was carried over the dam by the force of the current, Dr Robbins was thrown into the river and was unable to save himself. He was quite advanced in life, having been the oldest member of the Constitutional Convention, in which he was one of the delegates from Clackamas.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

Delivered to both Houses of Congress on Wednesday, December 9th.

[illegible]

Another year of health and sufficiently abundant harvests has passed. For these and especially for the improved condition of our National affairs, our renewed and profound gratitude to God is due.

OUR FOREIGN RELATIONS.

We remain in peace and friendship with foreign powers. [illegible] Her Britannic Majesty's Government, as was justly expected, has exercised her authority to prevent the departure of new hostile expeditions from British ports. The Emperor of France has by a like proceeding promptly vindicated the neutrality which he proclaimed at the beginning of the contest. Questions of great intricacy and importance have arisen out of the blockade and other belligerent operations between the Government and several of the maritime powers, but they have been discussed, and, as far as was possible, accommodated in a spirit of frankness, justice and mutual good will. It is especially gratifying that our prize Courts by the impartiality of their adjudication have commanded the respect and confidence of maritime powers. The supplemental treaty between the United States and Great Britain for the suppression of the African slave trade made on the 17th day of February last, has been duly ratified and carried into execution. It is believed that, so far as American ports and American citizens are concerned, the inhuman and odious traffic has been brought to an end. I shall submit for the consideration of the Senate a convention for the adjustment of possessory claims in Washington Territory arising out of the treaty of the 15th of June, 1846, between the United States and Great Britain, and which have been the source of some disquiet among the citizens of that now rapidly improving part of the country.

A novel and important question involving the extent of the maritime jurisdiction of Spain in the waters which surround the Island of Cuba has been debated without reaching an agreement and it is proposed, in an amicable spirit, to refer it to the arbitrament of a friendly power. A convention for that purpose will be submitted to the Senate.

I have thought it proper subject to the approval of the Senate, to concur in an arrangement for the capitalization of the Scheldt dues upon the principles which have been heretofore adopted in regard to the imposts upon navigation in the waters of Denmark.

The long pending controversy between this Government and that of Chile touching the seizure at Sitana in Peru by Chilean officers of a large amount in treasure belonging to citizens of the United States has been brought to a close by the award of His Majesty, the King of the Belgians, to whose arbitration the question was referred by the parties. The subject was thoroughly and patiently examined by that justly respected magistrate. Although the sum awarded to complainants may not have been as large as they expected, there is no reason to distrust the wisdom of His Majesty's decision. That decision was promptly responded to by Chile when intelligence in regard to it reached that country.

The Joint Convention, under the Act of last session, for carrying into effect the convention with Peru on the subject of claims, has been organized at Lima, and is engaged in the business intrusted to it.

Difficulties concerning interoceanic transit through Nicaragua are in course of amicable adjustment, in conformity with the principles set forth in my last annual message.

I have received a representative from the United States of Columbia, and have credited a Minister to that Republic.

Injuries unforeseen by the Government, and unintended, may in some cases have been inflicted upon the subjects or citizens of foreign countries, both at sea and on the land, and by persons in the service of the United States. While this Government expects redress from other powers when similar injuries are inflicted by persons in their service on citizens of the United States, we must be prepared to do justice to foreigners. If the existing judicial tribunals are inadequate to this purpose, a special Court may be authorized with power to hear and decide such claims, of the character referred to, as may have arisen under treaties and public law. Conventions for adjusting claims by joint commission have been proposed to several Governments, but no definite answer to the proposition has yet been received from any. During the course of the session, in all probability, I will have occasion to request you to provide indemnification to claimants where decrees of restitution have been rendered and damages awarded by the Admiralty Court, and in other cases where this Government may be acknowledged to be liable in principle and where the amount of that liability has been ascertained by a formal arbitration.

THE INCOMES OF FOREIGN CONSULS.

The proper officers of the treasury have deemed themselves required by the laws of the United States upon the subject, to demand a tax upon the incomes of foreign Consuls in this country. While such a demand may not, in strict terms, be the infraction of the public law, or perhaps of any existing treaty between the United States and any foreign country, the expediency of so far modifying the Act as to exempt from tax the income of such Consuls as are not citizens of the United States, derived from the emoluments of their office, deserves your serious consideration. I make this suggestion upon the ground that a courtesy which ought to be reciprocated exempts our Consuls in all other countries from taxation to the extent indicated. The United States, I think, ought not to be exceptionally illiberal to international trade and commerce.

THE RIGHTS OF FOREIGN BORN RESIDENTS.

Incidents occurring in the progress of our civil war have forced upon my attention the uncertain state of the international question touching the rights of foreigners in this country and of United States citizens abroad. In regard to some Governments these rights are at least partially defined by treaties. In no instance however, is it expressly stipulated that on the occurrence of civil war a foreigner residing in this country, within the lines of the insurgents, is to be exempted from the rule which classes him a belligerent, in whose behalf the Government of his country can expect any privileges or immunities distinct from that character. I regret to say, however, that such claims have been put forward and, in some instances, in behalf of foreigners who have lived in the United States the greater part of their lives. There is reason to believe that many persons born in foreign countries who have declared their intention to become citizens, or who have been fully naturalized, have evaded the military duty required of them by denying the fact, and thereby throwing upon the Government the burden of proof. It has been found difficult or impracticable to obtain this proof from the want of guides to the proper sources of information. These might be supplied by requiring the Clerks of Courts, where declarations of intentions may be made or naturalization effected to send, periodically, lists of the names of persons naturalized or declaring their intention to become citizens, to the Secretary of the Interior, in whose department those names must be arranged and printed for general information. There is also reason to believe that foreigners frequently become citizens of the United States for the sole purpose of evading the duties imposed by the laws of their native country, to which, after becoming naturalized here, they at once repair and though never returning to the United States, they still claim the interposition of the Government as citizens. Many altercations and great prejudice have heretofore grown out of this abuse. It is therefore, submitted to your serious consideration. It might be advisable to fix a limit [to be fixed], beyond which no citizens of the United States residing abroad may claim the interposition of this Government. The right of suffrage has often been assumed and exercised by aliens under pretense of naturalization which they have disavowed when drafted into the military service. I submit the expediency of such an amendment of the laws as will make the act of voting an estoppel against any plea of exemption from military service, or other civil obligation on the ground of alienage.

THE JAPANESE TROUBLES.

In common with other Western Powers, our relations with Japan have been brought into serious jeopardy, through the perverse opposition of the hereditary aristocracy of the empire to the enlightened and liberal policy of the Tycoon designed to bring the country into the society of nations. It is hoped—although not with entire confidence—that these difficulties may be overcome. I ask your attention to the [claim of the] Minister residing there, for the damages he sustained in the destruction by fire of the Legation at Yedo.

THE TELEGRAPH PROJECTS.

Satisfactory arrangements have been made with the Emperor of Russia, which, it is believed, will result in effecting [the construction of] a continuous line of telegraph through that Empire from our Pacific coast. I recommend to your favorable consideration the subject of an International Telegraph across the Atlantic Ocean and also of a telegraph between the Capital and the National forts on the Atlantic coast and the Gulf of Mexico. Such [illegible] would be of much value [illegible] to the diplomatic [illegible] and naval service.

[illegible]

The Consular [illegible] of the United States and the [illegible] Congress [illegible] It is a [illegible] which will [illegible] when [illegible] Our Ministers [illegible] have been faithful in [illegible] American [illegible] our commercial interests. Our Consuls have necessarily had to encounter increased labors and responsibilities growing out of the war. These they have for the most part discharged with zeal and fidelity. This acknowledgment should justly include those Consuls who reside in Europe, Egypt, China and other countries and are charged with [illegible] extraordinary powers.

THE TERRITORIES.

The condition of the several organized Territories is generally satisfactory although Indian disturbances in New Mexico have not been entirely suppressed. The mineral resources of Colorado, Nevada, Idaho, New Mexico and Arizona are proving far richer than has been heretofore understood. [illegible] your communication on this subject from the Governor of New Mexico.

EMIGRATION.

I again submit to your consideration the expediency of establishing a system for the encouragement of emigration. Although the source of National wealth is again flowing with greater freedom than for several years before the insurrection occurred, there is still a great deficiency of laborers in every field of industry, especially in agriculture and in our mines, as well of iron and coal as of the precious metals. While the demand for labor is thus increased here, tens of thousands of persons destitute of remunerative occupation are thronging our foreign consulates and offering to emigrate to the United States if essential but very cheap assistance can be afforded them. It is easy to see that under the sharp discipline of civil war the nation is beginning a new life. This noble effort demands the aid and ought to receive the attention and support of the Government.

THE NATIONAL FINANCES.

The operations of the Treasury during the last year have been successfully conducted. The enactment by Congress of a National banking law has proved a valuable support of the Government credit, and the general legislation in relation to loans has fully answered the expectations of its favorers. Some amendments may be required to existing laws but no change in their principles or general scope is believed to be needed. Since these measures have been in operation all demands on the Treasury, including the payments of the army and the navy, have been promptly met and fully satisfied. No considerable body of troops, it is believed, were ever more promptly provided and more liberally and punctually paid, and it may be added that by no people were the burdens incident to a great war ever more cheerfully borne. The receipts during the year from all sources, including loans and the balance in the treasury at its commencement were $901,125,674 86. The aggregate disbursements $895,796,630 65, leaving a balance on the 7th of July, 1863 of $5,329,044 21. Of the receipts, there were derived from customs $69,059,642 40, from internal revenue $37,640,787 95, from direct taxes, $1,485,103 61, from lands $167,617 17, from miscellaneous sources $3,046,615 35, and from loans $776,682,361 57—making the aggregate of $901,125,674 86. Of the disbursements there were $2,320,000 22 for pensions, &c., $4,216,520 59 for interest on public debt; $24,729,465 01 for the War Department, $599,298,600 83; for the Navy Department, $63,211,105 27 for payment of temporary debt, and $181,086,635 07 for the payment of the funded debt; making an aggregate of $895,796,630 65, and leaving a balance in the treasury of $5,329,044 21. But the payment of the funded and temporary debt having been made from moneys borrowed during the year must be regarded as merely nominal payments, and the moneys borrowed to make them as merely nominal receipts. The amount of $181,086,635 07 should therefore be deducted both from the receipts and disbursements. This being done, there remains as actual receipts $714,709,995 58, leaving balance as already stated.

The receipts and disbursements for the first quarter, and the estimated receipts and disbursements for the remaining three quarters of the current fiscal year of 1864, will be shown in detail by the report of the Secretary of the Treasury, to which I invite your attention. It is sufficient to say here that it is not believed that the actual results will exhibit a state of the finances less favorable to the country than the estimates of that officer heretofore submitted, while it is confidently expected that at the close of the year both disbursements and debts will be found very considerably less than has been anticipated.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

The report of the Secretary of War is a document of great interest. It consists of—first the military operations of the year, detailed in the report of the General in Chief; second, the organization of colored persons into the war service; third, the exchange of prisoners, fully set forth in the letter of General Hitchcock; fourth, the operations under the Act for enrolling and calling out the National forces, detailed in the report of the Provost Marshal General; fifth, the organization of the Invalid corps; sixth the operations of the several Departments of the Quartermaster General, Commissary General, Paymaster General, Chief of Engineers, Chief of Ordnance, and Surgeon General. It has appeared impossible to make a summary of this voluminous report, except such as would be too extended for this place, and hence I content myself in referring your attention to the report itself.

THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.

The duties devolving on the naval branch of the service during the year, and throughout the whole of this unhappy contest, have been discharged with fidelity, energy and success. The blockade has been constantly increasing in efficiency, as the navy has expanded, yet on so long a line, it has so far been impossible to entirely suppress illicit trade. From returns at the Navy Department, it appears that more than 1,000 vessels have been captured since the blockade was instituted and that the value of the prizes sent in for adjudication amounts to over $13,000,000. The naval force of the U S consists, at this time, of 558 vessels completed, and in course of completion, and of these 75 are iron clads—armored steamers. The events of the war give an increased interest and importance to the navy, which will probably extend beyond the war itself. The armored vessels in our navy completed and in service or which are under contract and approaching completion, are believed to exceed in number those of any other Power, but while these may be relied upon for harbor defense and sea coast service, others of greater strength and capacity will be necessary for cruising purposes and to maintain our rightful position on the ocean. The change that has taken place in navy vessels and naval warfare since the introduction of steam as a motive power for ships of war, demands either a corresponding change in some of our existing Navy Yards or the establishment of new ones for the construction and necessary repair of modern war vessels. No inconsiderable embarrassment, delay and public injury has been experienced for the want of such Government establishments. The necessity of such a Navy Yard so furnished, at some suitable place upon the Atlantic seaboard, has, on repeated occasions, been brought to the attention of Congress by the Navy Department, and is again presented in the report of the Secretary, which accompanies this communication. I think it my duty to invite your attention to this subject, and also to that of establishing a yard or depot for naval purposes upon one of the Western rivers. A naval force has been created on these interior waters, and under many disadvantages, within little more than two years, exceeding in number the whole naval force of the country at the commencement of the present Administration. Satisfactory and important as has been the performance of the heroic men of the navy at this interesting period, they are scarcely more wonderful than the services of our mechanics and artisans in the production of war vessels which have created a new form of Naval power. Our country has advantages superior to any other country, in resources of iron and timber, with inexhaustible quantities of fuel in the immediate vicinity of both, and all available and in close proximity to navigable waters. Without the advantage of works the resources of the nation have been developed and its power displayed in the construction of a navy of such magnitude which has at the very period of its creation rendered signal service to the Union. The increase of the number of seamen in the public service from 7,500 men in the Spring of 1861 to about 34,000 at the present time has been accomplished without any [illegible] legislation or extraordinary bounty to promote that increase. It has been found however that the operation of the draft with the high bounties paid for army recruits is beginning to affect the naval service and will, if not corrected be likely to impair its efficiency by detaching seamen from their proper vocation and inducing them to enter the army. I therefore respectfully suggest that Congress might [illegible] the army and naval service [illegible] provision on the subject which will [illegible] be equitable to the communities more [illegible] interested. I recommend [illegible] suggestions of the Secretary of the Navy in regard to the policy of fostering and training seamen for the navy service. The Naval Academy is rendering signal service in preparing midshipmen for the responsible duties [illegible] I could not be deprived of the [illegible] for whom legal provision has been made [illegible] Naval [illegible] the vacancies [illegible] nominations from [illegible] have been filled by the Secretary of the Navy. [illegible] in every [illegible] consideration [illegible]

THE POSTAL SERVICE.

During the past fiscal year the financial condition of the Post Office Department has been one of increasing prosperity, and I am gratified in being able to state that the receipts of the postal revenue have nearly equaled the entire expenditures, the latter amounting to $11,314,206 84, and the former to $11,163,789 59 leaving a deficiency of $150,417 25. In 1860 the year immediately preceding the rebellion the deficiency amounted to $5,656,705 49, the postal receipts of that year being $2,645,722 19 less than those of 1863. [illegible] has been only about twenty five [illegible] has been reduced thirty five per cent [illegible] that the Post Office Department may become self sustaining in a few years even with the restoration of the whole [illegible]

[illegible] International Conference of Postal Delegates from the principal countries of Europe and America, which was called at the suggestion of the Postmaster General, met at Paris on the 11th of May [illegible] its deliberations on the 8th of June. [illegible] principles established by the Conference [illegible] to facilitate postal intercourse between nations and as the basis of future [illegible] a general system of uniform international charges, at reduced rates of postage [illegible] beneficial results.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

I refer you to the report of the Secretary of the Interior, which is herewith laid before you for useful [illegible] in regard to the public lands, Indian affairs, patents, pensions and other matters of public concern pertaining to his Department. The quantity of land disposed of during the last and the first quarter of the present fiscal year was [illegible] of which 1,911 acres were sold for cash [illegible] were taken up under the Homestead law. The residue disposed of under the laws [illegible] grants for military accounts, for railroads and other purposes. It also appears that the sale of the public lands are largely on the increase. It has long been the opinion of some of our wisest statesmen that the people of the United States had a higher and more enduring interest in the early settlement and substantial cultivation of the public lands than in the amount of direct revenue to be derived from the sale of them. This opinion has had a controlling influence in shaping legislation on the subject of our National domain. As evidence of this, may be mentioned the liberal measures adopted in reference to actual settlers, the grant to the States of the overflowed lands within their limits in order to their being rendered fit for cultivation, the grant to railroad companies of alternate sections of land upon the contemplated lines of their roads which when completed, will largely multiply the facilities for reaching our distant possessions. The policy has resulted in most signal and beneficent service to actual settlers. Since the first day of January last the before mentioned quantity of [illegible] acres of land has been taken up under its provision. This [illegible] with the amount of sales furnishes gratifying evidence of increasing settlement upon the public lands, notwithstanding the great struggle in which the energies of the nation have been engaged has required so large a withdrawal of our citizens from their accustomed pursuits. I cordially concur in the recommendation of the Secretary of the Interior, suggesting a modification of the Act in favor of those engaged in the military and naval service of the United States. I doubt not Congress will cheerfully adopt such measures as will, without essentially changing the general features of the system, reserve, to the greatest practicable extent its benefits to those who have left their homes in defense of the country in this arduous crisis.

MINERAL LANDS.

I invite your attention to the views of the Secretary of War as to the propriety of raising by appropriate legislation, a revenue from the mineral lands of the United States.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The measures provided at your last session for the removal of certain Indian tribes have been carried into effect. Sundry treaties have been negotiated which will, in due time, be submitted for the constitutional action of the Senate. They contain stipulations for extinguishing the possessory rights of the Indians to large and valuable tracts of lands. It is probable that the effects of these treaties will result in the establishment of permanent friendly relations with such of these tribes as have been brought into frequent and bloody collision with our outlying settlements and emigrants. Sound policy and our imperative duty to these wards of the Government demand our anxious and constant attention to their material well being, to their progress in the arts of civilization and, above all, in that moral training which, under the blessing of Divine Providence, will confer upon them the elevated and sanctifying influence of the hopes and consolations of the Christian faith. I [illegible] stated in my last annual message the propriety of reducing our Indian system. Subsequent events have satisfied me of its necessity. The details set forth in the report of the Secretary will evince the urgent need for immediate legislative action.

BENEVOLENT INSTITUTIONS.

I commend the benevolent of the institutions established or patronized by the Government in this District to your generous and fostering care.

THE CANAL ENLARGEMENT SCHEME.

The attention of Congress during the last session was engaged to some extent with a proposition for enlarging the water communications between the Mississippi river and the Northern Lakes and the Eastern sea. [illegible] which proposition, however failed for the time. Since then, upon a call of the greatest respectability a Convention has been called at Chicago upon the same subject, a summary of whose views is contained in an address to the President and Congress, and which I now have the honor to lay before you. That the enterprise is one which, if [illegible], will [illegible] I do not entertain a doubt, while it is submitted entirely to your wisdom [illegible] is given this early [illegible] the formal commencement of the Pacific Railroad [illegible] to its rapid progress and completion. Enlarged navigation becomes a [illegible] to the great road.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

I transmit the second annual report of the Commissioner of this Department, asking your attention [illegible] requirements is of vital interest to the nation.

THE SITUATION.

When Congress assembled a year ago, the war had already lasted nearly twenty months, and there had been many conflicts on land and sea, with varying results. The rebellion had been pressed back into reduced limits yet the tone of public opinion at home and abroad was not satisfactory. With other signs, the popular elections then just past indicated uneasiness among ourselves, while amid much that was cold and menacing, the kindest words coming from Europe uttered in accents of pity that we were too blind to surrender. Our commerce was suffering greatly from a few armed vessels built upon, and furnished from foreign shores, and we were threatened with such additions from the same quarter as would sweep our trade from the sea and raise our blockade. We had failed to elicit from European Governments anything hopeful upon this subject. The emancipation proclamation which was issued in September was running its assigned period to the beginning of the new year. A month later the final proclamation came, including the announcement that colored men of suitable condition would be received into the war service. The policy of emancipation and of employing black soldiers gave to the future a new aspect about which hope and fear and doubt contended in uncertain conflict. According to our political system, as a matter of civil administration the General Government had no lawful power to effect emancipation in any State, and for a long time it had been hoped that the rebellion could be suppressed without resorting to it as a military measure. It was all the while deemed possible that the necessity for it might come, and that if it should the crisis of the contest would then be presented. It came and as was anticipated it was followed by dark and doubtful days. Eleven months having now passed we are permitted to take another review. The rebel borders are pressed still further back, and by the complete opening of the Mississippi the country dominated over by the rebellion is divided into distinct parts with no practicable communication between them. Tennessee and Arkansas have been substantially cleared of the insurgent control and influential citizens in each and the owners of slaves and advocates of slavery at the beginning of the rebellion now declare openly for emancipation in their respective States. Of those States not included in the Emancipation Proclamation Maryland and Missouri, neither of which three years ago would tolerate any restraint upon the extension of slavery into the new Territories. The only dispute now is as to the best mode of removing it within their own limits. Of those who were slaves at the beginning of the rebellion, full one hundred thousand are now in the United States military service, about one half of which number actually bear arms in the ranks, thus giving the double advantage of taking so much labor from the insurgent cause and supplying the places which otherwise must be filled by so many white men. So far as tested it is difficult to say they are not as good soldiers as any. No servile insurrection or tendency to violence or cruelty has marked the measures of emancipation and arming the blacks. These measures have been much discussed in foreign countries, and contemporary with such discussion the tone of public sentiment there is much improved. At home the same measures have been fully discussed, supported, criticised and denounced, and the annual elections following are highly encouraging to those whose official duty it is to bear the country through this great trial. We have the [illegible]

[illegible] The crisis which threatened to divide the [illegible]

[illegible] RECONSTRUCTION.

[illegible]

[illegible] Executive [illegible] I must also add that [illegible] the support of these [illegible] the Executive may [illegible] has a clear [illegible] the public [illegible] that this part of the [illegible] and suspending power of [illegible] The proclamation [illegible] Executive in any [illegible] with the view of [illegible] modifying the confusion [illegible] whole states, and it is [illegible] the States [illegible] the cause of their [illegible] left to themselves which [illegible] of the National Executive to prevent [illegible] The suggestion [illegible] what is called reconstruction [illegible] will save labor and avoid great confusion. But why any proclamation now upon this subject? [illegible] views that [illegible] delayed too long or be taken [illegible] Some elements of resumption seem ready for action but remain inactive apparently for want of a rallying point [illegible] Why shall A adopt the plan of B rather than B that of A? If A and B should agree, [illegible] General Government [illegible] This may bring them together sooner than [illegible] a premature presentation of a plan by the National Executive consists in the danger of committals [illegible] could be more safely left to further developments. Care has been taken [illegible] the document [illegible] that certain terms certain classes will be pardoned with [illegible] that other classes on other terms will never be included. In saying [illegible] national action will be accepted in a specified way [illegible] it will never be accepted in any other way. The movements in the war of State action [illegible] the States not included [illegible] in the emancipation proclamation [illegible] profound gratitude [illegible] I will not [illegible] in detail what I [illegible] on this subject, my general views and [illegible] and I trust that Congress will [illegible] of adding these important steps [illegible]

[illegible] however important, we must not lose sight of the fact that the war power is still our main reliance. To that power alone can we look yet, for a time, to give confidence to the people in contested regions that the insurgent power will not again overrun them. Until that confidence shall be established little can be done anywhere for what is called reconstruction. Hence our chiefest care must still be directed to our army and navy, who have thus far borne their harder part so nobly and well. And it may be esteemed fortunate that in giving the greatest efficiency to these indispensable arms, we also honorably recognize the gallant men, from commander to sentinel, who compose them, and to whom more than all others the world must stand indebted for having disenthralled, regenerated, enlarged and perpetuated the home of freedom.

THERE is no [illegible] diseases but by first purifying the whole system so as to create a healthy circulation.

The first medical men of the [illegible] agree with us, that no disease of any extent can be cured without using such medicines as will act directly upon the blood. [illegible] because the [illegible] used have not been such as [illegible] beneficially [illegible]

The many thousands of bottles which have been used by the public, and the many gallons sold, supplied to the physicians, [illegible] us in saying that the last [illegible] we have been more [illegible] our Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup in curing hopeless cases of [illegible] diseases than have any other remedies in the hands of physicians or before the public.

It is now admitted that no combination known to the profession, acts so promptly upon diseases as our SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP.

For sale everywhere, and by REDINGTON & CO, 416 and 418 Front st, San Francisco.

DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM [illegible] fected cures in numerous cases, where the most skillful physicians in this country and in Europe have been employ[ed] exercised their [skill]. Cases pronounced [incurable] and surrendered beyond a doubt, patients without [hope], enlivened them, have been cured by Balsam and of consumptive coughs and most robust. And these cases are numerous, and out in every where this remedy has been tested. REDINGTON & CO, Sole Agents, 416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco, and for sale by all Druggists.

DASTARDLY ACT.—We are told that as the entertainment for the benefit of the Methodist church night before last, was drawing to a close and after a majority of the ladies and gentlemen had departed a large number of persons, dressed in the extreme of the gayest Front street fashion, intruded upon the premises without paying the admission fee, and at least two of these gentry were seen to pilfer and secrete about their persons small articles from the bazars. One was seen to steal a book, and another a night cap and an infant's dress. Stealing coppers from a dead grandmother's eyes is almost a praiseworthy act in the comparison, and it is a wonder that the faithless garments do not drop in rags from a carcass of such polluting depravity.

SOLD.—We were conversing with a friend on Front street, yesterday, an active fireman by the way, when through the drizzling rain came a sound, repeated at intervals for perhaps half a minute, closely resembling the tap of No 1's alarm bell. Friend P started, listened, and the sounds ceased. Presently the regular strokes came again booming along, and P commenced preparing his nether extremities for a wade with the machine. Following the direction whence issued the sound, we discovered that it emanated from the Oregon Iron Foundry, where workmen were engaged in keying the flanges on the shaft for a new stern wheel boat now lying at Milwaukie. We believe the shaft is now finished and will be forwarded immediately.

THE steamer Hunt did not leave here until about 7 o'clock, yesterday morning, on account of the fog. She returned at a few minutes past six last evening, bring 50 passengers. Mr. Holland, Wells, Fargo & Co's messenger, brought down 100 pounds of gold, and no inconsiderable amount came in private hands.

CAPT. HUGHES, formerly of Walla Walla, but later from Boise, has, we understand, recently been ordered to San Francisco, and has received the appointment of Quarter Master at that point. We are informed by those acquainted with the Captain, that he is well qualified for and deserving of the responsible position. He leaves on the next steamer.

Notice.
THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Stockholders of the Auburn Canal Company will be held at their Office in Portland, on Monday December 28th, 1863, at 2 o'clock P M, for the election of Directors, and the transaction of such business as may legally come before them.

Sick Headache Cured
GOLCONDA, Ill., February 6, 1860
MESSRS A. L. SCOVILL & Co.—We have used your Dr BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA in our family for the Sick Headache with perfect success, as it will, by following the directions, cure the sick headache in a very few minutes. We have also used it in many instances for other complaints, and take pleasure in saying it is the best general medicine we have ever used in our family.

Scrofula Cured.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 7 1863
MESSRS A. L. SCOVILL & Co.—Gents: My son, who is now sixteen years old, has been afflicted with SCROFULA for more than two years. It first made its appearance in small knots on the glands of the neck, under the skin. Our family physician, who attended him, said he could cure him, although he had been under his attendance when the disease made its first appearance, and instead of curing him he grew worse, and, finally, the sore broke and has since continued to discharge, until I got Dr MOTT'S VEGETABLE LIVER PILLS. He commenced using them about one year ago, and in less than three months he was well, and instead of a weak, delicate child, he is now well, healthy and robust. Yours truly, JAMES ALLEN.

ARKANSAS MOVING FOR THE UNION —E W Gantt was an original secessionist who entered the rebel army, and twice was accommodated with rest from his labors in a Union prison He is at liberty now, and convinced that he was on the wrong track In that conviction he addresses the people of Arkansas, urging them to call home their rebel soldiers go in for the Union, and prove it by their works Here is an extract from his address concerning Jeff Davis

He (Davis) drove Gen Gustavus W Smith from the army He was once ready to remove Stonewall Jackson and only the success of the latter backed by a powerful influence prevented it He over-laughed and oppressed Beauregard because he let the people know that he desired to move on Washington at once after the first Manassas fight and was prevented by Davis He drove G Walker of Georgia out of the service He retained Hindman in Arkansas with a positive knowledge of his outrages He removed him but to endorse his acts He retains Holmes here to gratify the Johnsons, at the ruin of our people He has praised Price because he supposed the latter was made a brigadier in Mexico and Davis was not He retained Pemberton in command against the wishes of the army and the country and, to add insult to it all sent him to Mobile to take command, where he is execrated by every man woman and child By a trick and a swindle he got Gen J E Johnston away from command in Virginia and gave him no other definite position until there was a pressing emergency and a chance to damage him—thereby showing both his confidence in him and his malignity toward him He drove Gen Pike out out of the army to gratify Hindman and the Johnsons and thereby lost to us the whole of the Indian country and if the war continues will place the tomahawk and scalping knife at the throats of our women and children He retains a weak and inefficient Cabinet, and never calls them in council that he may reign as sole despot over our people He has had at his disposal physical force enough to carry out acts the most arbitrary and oppressive He has used that force He has shown his selfishness and disregard for the interest of the people by his appointment of Heath, Van Dorn Dick Taylor Davis and Mansfield Lovell all relatives and all alike incompetent He has alienated the people of Georgia so much so that were the Confederacy acknowledged to day Georgia would not remain two years under him I heard a Confederate general of great prominence who understands the feeling in that State, so declare And as significant of this, Gov Brown of Georgia gave to Gen G W Smith meanly and spitefully driven out of the army by Davis the presidency of the Etowah Iron Works with a salary larger than that of his salary as lieutenant general In a word he has enriched and honored his friends ruined and impoverished his enemies He has given over the people, those of Arkansas especially, to plunder and oppression by his favorites, and in no instance punished the offender

'Ruin approaches he says, 'our armies are melting away,' and the Union grows stronger every day

The North scarcely feel the war at home Their cities are more populous and thrifty to day than ever For every man that dies or gets killed in battle, two emigrate to the country Their villages and towns their fields and country, flourish as fresh as ever They could sink their armies to day and raise new levies to crush us and not feel it How is it with us? The last man is in the field, half our territory overrun our cities gone to wreck—peopled alone by the aged the lame and halt and women and children while deserted towns, and smoking ruins and plantations abandoned and laid waste, meet us on all sides and anarchy and ruin disappointment and discontent lower over all the land

Slavery, he assures them is virtually destroyed Make a virtue of the necessity be rid of it, and open Arkansas to free labor, property, wealth and Union Mr Gantt's practical suggestion to start with is that the people of Arkansas request Senator Sebastian, who has been true always to the Union, to resume his seat in the U S Senate, "with instructions so clear that the United States Government may be at no loss to see that our people are loyal and that Mr Sebastian may have but one course of conduct left"

PRINTERS' MODESTY —A good many years ago, an Ohio a newspaper printer, whose wife was not at all noted for her beauty and gentleness, was compelled to set out on a journey and leave his work in the hands of his apprentices. The evening succeeding his departure when the boys came into supper, the wife in addressing the eldest, in an unusually kind tone, said 'William while your master is gone, you must take his place" William, confused and horrified, his face burning with blushes, in a voice of abject beseechingness stammered out "Please ma'am, I'd prefer to sleep with the boys"

IMPORTANT TO LADIES —A discovery important to ladies has just been made. It is a new crinoline which will not get into those unpleasant shapes when ladies pass through a crowd or get into cars or stages Its inventors say "So perfect are the wavelike bands that a lady may ascend a steep stair, lean against a table, throw herself into an arm chair, pass to her stall at the opera, without provoking rude remarks from the observers."

Say what one will of old maids, their love is generally more strong and sincere than that of the young milk and water creatures, whose hearts vibrate between the joys of wedlock and the dissipation of the ball room Until the young heart of woman is capable of setting firmly and exclusively on one object, her love is like a May shower, which makes rainbows, but fills no cisterns

MARKET REPORT.

Trade with the Upper Willamette, both in produce exchange and cash sales, continues quite brisk. The Upper Columbia transactions are confined to small shipments, destined principally for markets along the routes of steam boat navigation

In Liquors the wholesale traffic has been more extensive this week than for the month previous

By reference to the Prices Current it will be perceived that the article of Coffee has a downward tendency, being 2@4c less than last week's quotations

Eggs are coming down to something like a more rational standard, quoting 10@12½c less than last week and prices still descending The cessation of shipments to the mines may account for this

Lard has fallen 2c and Bacon and Hams 4c during the week Other articles justify former quotations, except Brown Drills, quoted at 2c advance

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whiskey vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters which instead of curing only aggravate disease and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public and their reputation and sale are not rivaled by any similar preparation

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN
PHYSICIANS
CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness!
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling!
If so use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN Bitters.

From Rev J Newton Brown D D Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr C M Jackson, of this city because I was prejudiced against them for many years under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker Esq for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them
J NEWTON BROWN
PHILADELPHIA June 23 1861

PARTICULAR NOTICE

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters put up in quart bottles compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause as long as they can be sold hundreds to die the death of the drunkard By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life to use his own language "has been saved by the Bitters"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs Jones & Evans —Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life There is no mistake in this It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am and have been for the last four years a member of Sherman's celebrated battery and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital This was followed by great debility heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine from which I landed on the 28th of June Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything and if I did force a morsel down it was immediately thrown up again

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances, and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully though unsuccessfully to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer frankly told me they could do no more for me and advised me to see a clergyman and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital Mr Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street advised me, as a forlorn hope to try your Bitters and kindly procured a bottle From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded and I am now, thank God for it getting better Though I have taken but two bottles I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian from the vicinity of Front Royal To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade Mr Malone restored to life
